Hinweis zu Echtholz furnier

Echtholz furniere aus verschiedenen Stämmen unterscheiden sich. Deshalb kann es keine absolute Farb- und Strukturgleichheit zwischen unterschiedlichen Fronten, Seiten und Deckplatten geben. Ebenso kann es Abweichungen von Holzmustern im Fachhandel und dem fertigen Möbel geben. Sollte ein Möbel später durch ein Bauteil ergänzt werden, kann es zu naturbedingten Farbunterschieden kommen. Die Farbunterschiede sind ein Wesensmerkmal von Echtholz furnier und stellen keinen Reklamationsgrund dar.

Hinweis zu Glasoberflächen

Glas ist ein Produkt aus natürlichen Rohstoffen und unterliegt produktionstechnischen Schwankungen. Abhängig von der Eigenfarbe des Glases, Glasstärke und den Lichtverhältnissen kann es Farbunterschiede zwischen unterschiedlichen Glasoberflächen geben. Ebenso kann es Abweichungen von Glasmustern im Fachhandel und dem fertigen Möbel geben. Bei Nachlieferungen von Glasoberflächen sind produktions- und chargenabhängige Farbunterschiede möglich und stellen keinen Reklamationsgrund dar.

Note on real wood veneer

Real wood veneers from different logs differ. Therefore, there can be no absolute colour and texture uniformity between different fronts, sides and top plates. Likewise, there can be deviations between wood samples in the specialized trade and the finished furniture. If a component is added to a piece of furniture later, there may be natural differences in colour and structure. These differences are a characteristic of real wood veneer and make your furniture unmistakably unique; they do not constitute grounds for complaint.

Note on glass surfaces

Glass is a product made from natural raw materials and is subject to variations in production technology. Depending on the inherent colour of the glass, glass thickness and lighting conditions, there may be colour differences between different glass surfaces. Likewise, there may be deviations between glass samples in the specialized trade and the finished furniture. In the case of subsequent deliveries of glass surfaces, production- and batch-dependent colour differences are possible and do not constitute grounds for complaint.
